RUDIMENTS.

THE Gamut is a scale of musick, comprising seven primary notes. It is divided into three parts, Bass, Tenor or Treble, and Counter, which are distinguished by three different Cliffs; and to the notes are applied the seven letters, A, B, C, D, E, F, G, and the four names, mⁱ, f, s^j, l.—very eighth note is considered the same in nature as the first; and is always on the same letter repeated, and of the same name.

Of the seven primary notes five are whole tones, and two are semitones. In the natural scale, the semitones are between B and C, and E and F; but their places may be altered by flats and sharps.—Mⁱ is the governing note. Ascending in order, above mⁱ the notes are f, s^j, l, f, s^j, l; descending below mⁱ they are l, s^j, f, l, s^j, f; then mi returns.

The natural place for mi is on B. But

MUSICAL NOTES AND RESTS.

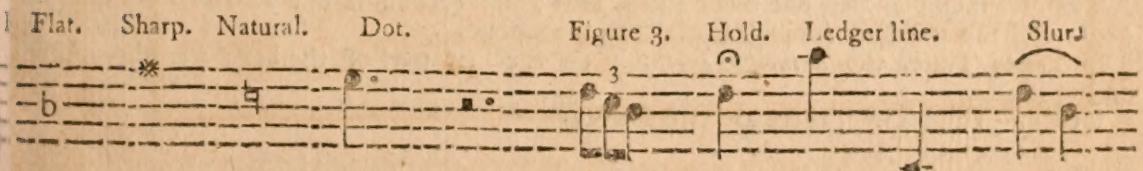

1 Semibreve, 2 Minims, 4 Crochets, 8 Quavers, 16 Semiquavers, 32 Demisemiquavers.

The first character in each bar is the note; the other is the rest; the figures, prefixed to their names, shew their proportions to each other.

NOTE. The semibreve rest always fills a bar.

OTHER MUSICAL CHARACTERS.

RUDIMENTS.

Choosing Notes. Marks of Distinction. Repeat. Brace. Bar. Double Bar. Close.

The five lines, on which the notes of musick are placed, are called a Staff.

A Flat at the beginning of a tune changes the place of mi; and set before a note, sinks it half a tone.

A Sharp at the beginning of a tune changes the place of mi; and set before a note, raises it half a tone.

A Natural restores a note from flat or sharp to its natural sound.

A Dot or Point of Addition, affixed to a note or rest, adds one half to its original length.

The Figure 3 or Mark of Diminution, reduces three notes to the time of two.

A Hold prolongs a note indefinitely.

Ledger Lines are added when notes ascend or descend, beyond the compass of the staff.

A Slur connects any number of notes which are to be sung to one syllable.

Choosing Notes give liberty for singing either, or both of them, at pleasure.

Marks of Distinction direct that the notes be sung with emphatical distinctness.

A Repeat is placed at the beginning and end of a strain, or passage, which is to be sung twice.

A Brace shews how many parts move together.

A Bar divides the notes according to the time.

A Double Bar denotes the end of a strain of the musick, or of a line of the poetry.

A Close shews the end of a tune.

TIME.

Time is of three kinds, Common, Triple, and Compound.

Of Common Time there are four Modes, which are distinguished as follows:

The first three modes have a semibreve or its equivalent in each bar; the last has a minim.

The first mode has four beats to a bar, two down and two up, each in a second.

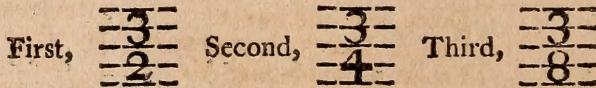

The second mode is like the first, only one fourth faster.

The third mode has two beats to a bar, each in a second, one down and one up.

The fourth mode has also two beats to a bar, one fourth quicker than the third.

In all the modes of Common Time, the accented parts of the bar are the first and third.

Of Triple Time there are three Modes.

The first mode has three minims or their equivalent in a bar; the second, three crotchets; the third, three quavers.

All the modes of Triple Time have three beats to a bar, two down, and one up.

The first mode allows one second to a beat; the second is one fourth faster than the first; and the third, one fourth faster than the second.

In Triple Time, the principal accent is on the first part of the bar; a smaller accent on the third.

Of Compound Time, there are two Modes:

First,

Second,

The first mode has six crotchets in a bar; and two beats, each in a second.

The second mode has six quavers in a bar; and two beats, one fourth faster than the first.

The accented parts of the bar in Compound Time, are the first and third.

These rules respecting time may be of use to the learner; yet the movement in the same mode, and in the same tune, is variable, and should be slower or quicker, according to the subject of the song.

KEYS.

There are two natural keys in musick; viz. A minor and C major.

The key note is the last note in the Bass. This note is always either la or fa, the next below, or the next above mi: if la, it is the minor, or flat key; if fa, it is the major or sharp key. The minor key has the minor third, sixth, and seventh—the major key, the major third, sixth, and seventh—above the key note.

Why do we mourn departing friends?
'Tis but the voice that Jesus sends

Or shake at death's alarms?

READING. C. M.

Har. Sacra.

Lord, in the morning thou shalt hear

To call them to his arms.

My voice ascending high;

To thee will I di - rect my prayer,

To thee lift up mine eye.

Al . High as the heav'ns are rais'd
So far the riches of his grace

Above the ground we tread,

Al O praise ye the Lord, Prepare your glad voice, ur highest thoughts exceed.

His praise in the great

In their great Creator, Let all men rejoice,

sembly to sing :

And heirs of salvation Be glad in your King.

AIR That awful day will surely come,

When I must stand before my Judge,

Th' appointed hour makes haste,

PLEYEL's. L. M.

J. Pleyel.

Sevens, omitting the first note of each line.

Very slow.

So fades the lovely, blooming flow'r,

And pass the solemn test.

Frail, smiling solace of an hour!

So soon our transient comforts fly,

And pleasure only blooms to die

AIR. Sweet is the work, my God, my King,
To shew thy love by morning light,
To praise thy name, give thanks and sing,

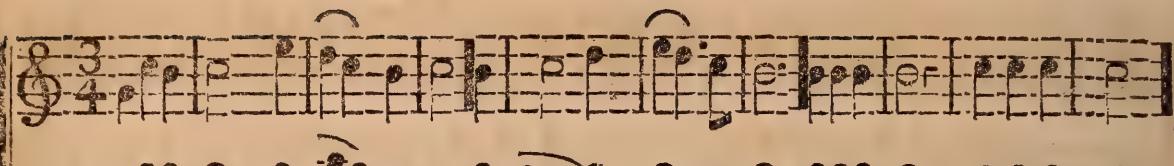

BABYLON. L. M.

Ravenscroft.

AIR. Man has a soul of vast desires,
And talk of all thy truth at night.

Tost to and fro, his passions fly,
He burns within with restless fires;

From vanity to vanity.

AIR. All glory be to God on high,

Good will henceforth, from heav'n to men,

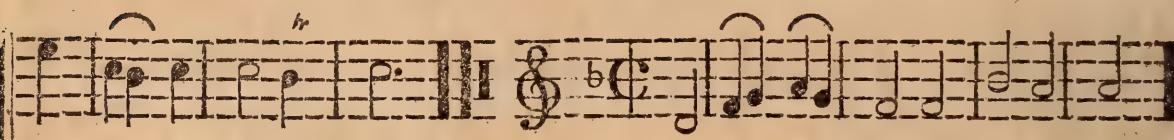

And to the earth be peace;

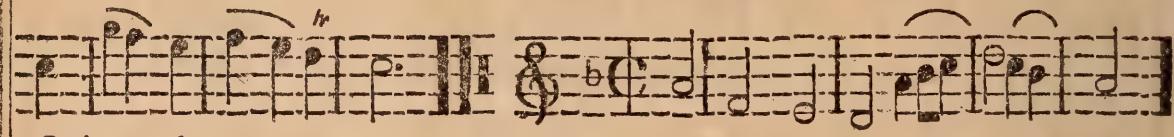

BANGOR. C. M.

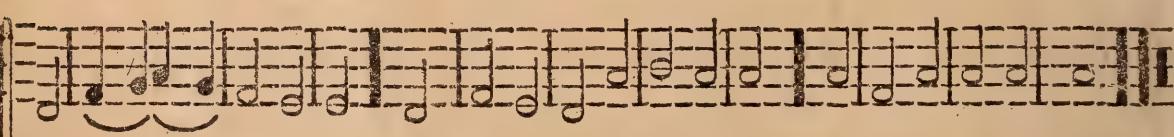

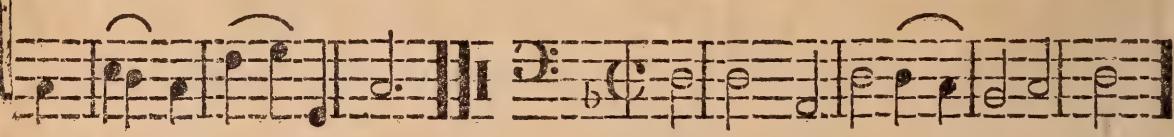

W. Tansur.

AIR. Stoop down, my tho'ts, that use to rise,

Begin, and never cease.

Think how a gasping mortal lies,

Converse a while with death :

And pants away his breath.

AIR. Great is the Lord our God,

He makes the churches his abode,

And let his praise be great;

His most delightful seat.

St. HELLEN's. L. P. M.

Jennings.

AIR. I'll praise my Maker with my breath;

Praise shall employ my nobler pow

And when my voice is lost in death,

While life, and thought, and being last,

My days of praise shall ne'er be past,

Or immortality endures.

AIR. The Lord my shepherd is, Since he is mine, and I am his,
I shall be well supply'd; What can I want beside?

HARLINGTON. L. P. M.

AIR. Think, mighty God, on feeble man, Short from the cradle to the grave.
How few his hours, how short his span;
Against the bold demands of death,
Who can secure his vital breath, With skill to fly or pow'r to save.

Glory to God on high, Let earth and skies reply, Praise ye his name; His love and grace adore, Who all our sorrows bore; Sing aloud evermore, Worthy the Lamb, Worthy the Lamb, Worthy the Lamb, Sing aloud evermore, Worthy the Lamb.

WALWORTH. 10's.

J. Wainwright.

A. I.

The Lord, the sov'reign, sends his summons forth, From east to west his sounding orders spread,

Calls the south nations, and awakes the north;

No more shall atheists mock his long delay;

Thro'distant worlds, and regions of the dead :

His vengeance sleeps no more : behold the day.

Praise ye the Lord; 'tis good to raise
His nature and his

All thanks to the Lamb, who gives us to meet; His love we proclaim, His praises repeat; We own him our Jesus, continually near, To pardon and bless us, And perfect us here. To pardon and bless us, And perfect, &c.

Come Jesus, and loose
The stammerer's tongue,
And teach even us
The spiritual song;

Let us without ceasing
Give thanks for Thy grace,
And glory and blessing,
And honour and praise,

AIR. Upward I lift mine eyes,
The God, who built the skies,
From God is all my aid;
And
God is the tow'r His grace is nigh, earth and nature made; To which I fly; In ev'ry hour.

Triumph in redeeming love,

Ye, who Jesus' kindness prove,

Triumph in redeeming love.

HYMN FIFTH. 7 & 6. B. Milgrove.

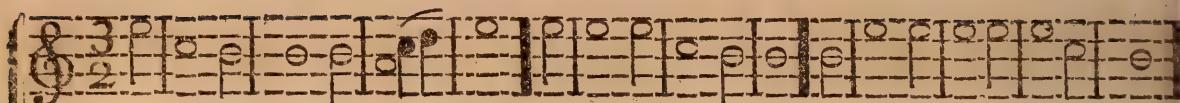

And keeps his courts below ;

And all his greatness show ;

Praise him for his matchless pow'r ;

Let heav'n and earth adore.

Him, in whom we live and move,
Let every creature sing ;
Glory to their Maker give,
And homage to their KingHallowed be his name beneath,
As in heaven on earth adored ;
Praise the Lord in every breath :
Let all things praise the Lord.

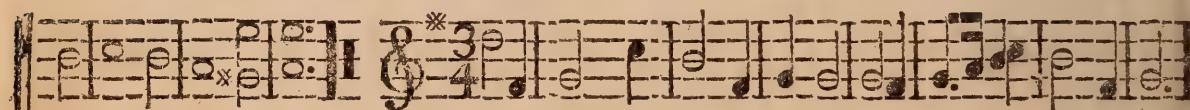

AIR. With rev'rence let the saints appear,

His high commands with rev'rence hear,

And bow before the Lord;

LOVE DIVINE. 8 & 7.

Love divine, all love excelling!

And tremble at his word.

Joy of heaven, to earth come down!

Fix in us thy humble dwelling;

Jesus, thou art all compassion!

All thy faithful mercies crown.

Pure, unbounded love thou art!

Enter ev'ry trembling heart.

Visit us with thy salvation,

AIR. Happy the heart where graces reign,

Love is the brightest of the train,

Where love inspires the breast;

HYMN SECOND. C. M.

Tenor.

J. Pleyel.

AIR. While thee I seek, protecting Pow'r,

And strengthens all the rest.

Be my vain wishes still'd;

And may this consecrated hour,

Thy love the pow'r of tho't bestow'd,

With better hopes be fill'd.

For.

Thy mercy o'er my life has flow'd,

To thee my tho'ts would soar,

That mercy I adore.

AIR. Long as I live I'll bless thy name,
My work and joy shall be the same,
My King, my God of love;

UXBRIDGE. 8s.

Dr. Arne.

AIR. How sweetly, along the gay mead
In the bright world above.
The daises and cowslips are seen!

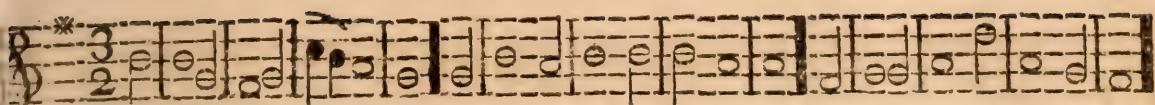

The flocks, as they carelessly feed,
The vines that encircle the bowers,
Rejoice in the beautiful green.

Trees, plants, cooling fruits, and sweet flowers,
All rise to the praise of my God.

The herbage that springs from the sod,
Shall man, the great master of all,

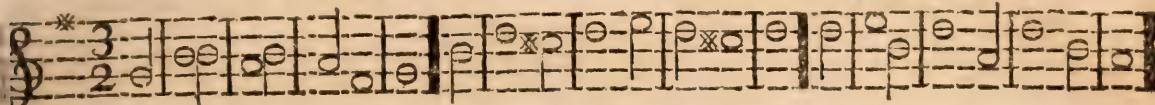

The only insensible prove?
Forbid it, fair gratitude's call—
Forbid it, devotion and love.

The Lord, who such wonders can raise,
And still can destroy with a nod,
My lips shall incessantly praise—
My soul shall rejoice in my God.

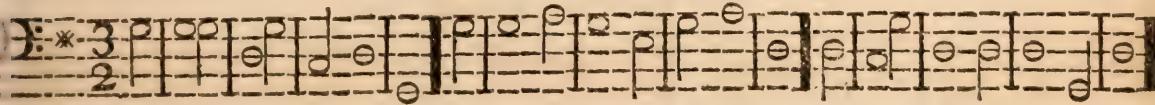

AIR. With all my pow'r's of heart and tongue,

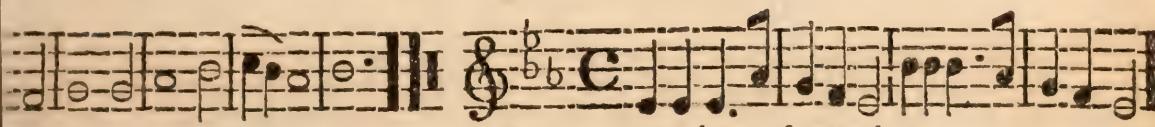

Angels shall hear the notes I raise,

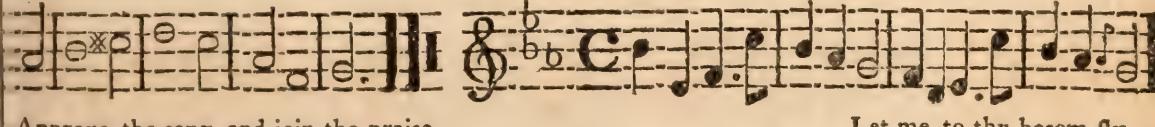

I'll praise my Maker in my song;

HOTHAM. 7s.

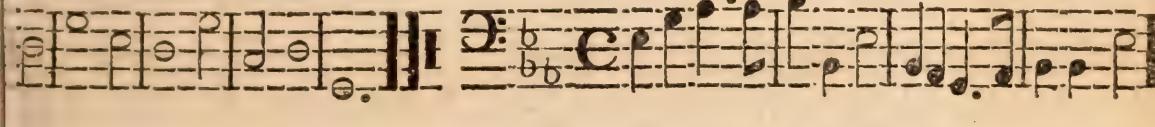

Dr. Madan.

AIR. Jesus, lover of my soul,

Approve the song, and join the praise.

Let me to thy bosom fly,

While the nearer waters roll,

Hide me, O my Saviour, hide,

While the tempest still is high.

Till the storm of life be past;

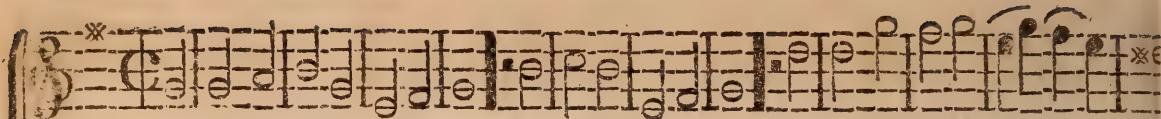

base into the haven guide,

O receive my soul at last.

O receive, O receive,

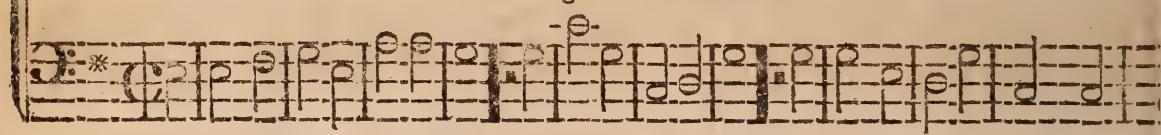

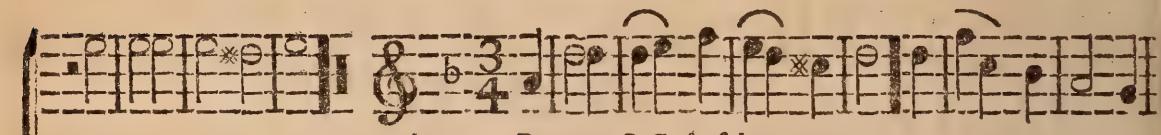

Lord, where shall guilty souls re-tire,

In hell they meet thy venge-ful ire

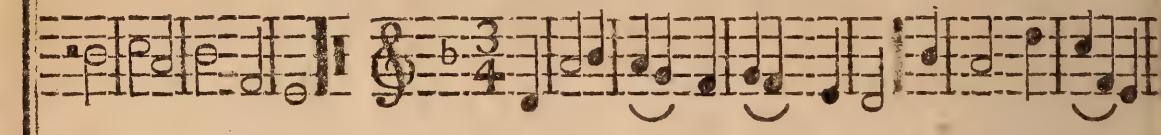

For - gotten and unknown ?

DORSET. C. M.

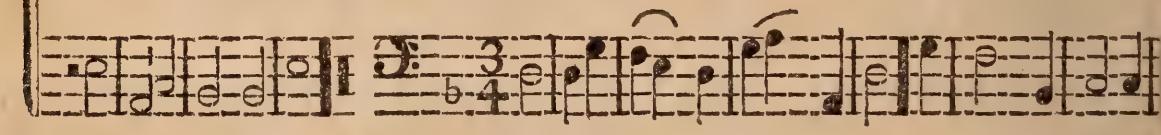

Dr. Burney.

AIR. Return, O God of love, return ;

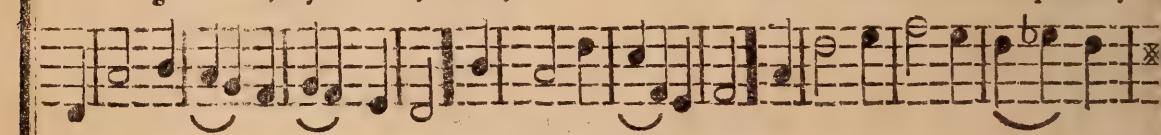

In heav'n thy glo-rious throne.

Earth is a tiresome place

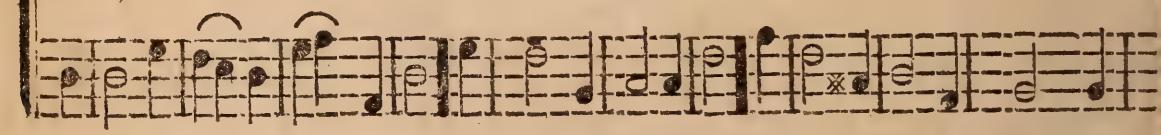

How long shall we, thy children, mourn,

Let heav'n succeed our painful year

Our absence from thy face.

Let sin and sorrow cease ;

So make our joys increase.

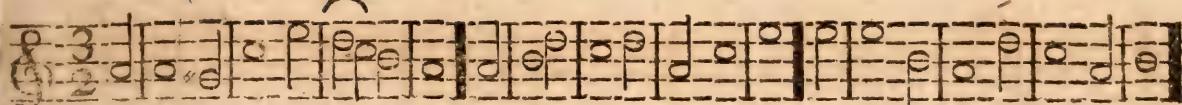

And in proportion to our tears,

The way the holy prophets went,
The road that leads from banishment,
The King's highway of holiness
I'll go, for all his paths are peace,

This is the way I long have sought,
And mourn'd because I found it not;
My grief, my burthen long has been,
Because I could not cease from sin.

And let this feeble body fail, And let it faint or die; My soul shall quit the mournful vale, And soar to worlds on high; Shall join the disembodied saints, And find its long sought rest (That only bliss, for which it pants) In the Redeemer's breast.

3 In hope of that immortal crown
I now the cross sustain;
And gladly wander up and down,
And smile at toil and pain.

4 I suffer on my threescore years,
Till my Deliv'rer come,

And wipe away His servants' tears,
And take His exiles home.

5 O, what hath Jesus bought for me!
Before my ravish'd eyes
Rivers of life divine I see,
And trees of Paradise.

6 I see a world of spirits bright,
Who taste the pleasures there;
They all are rob'd in spotless white,
And conq'ring palms they bear.
7 O, what are all my suff'rings here,
If Lord, Thou count me meet,

With that enraptur'd host t'appear,
And worship at Thy feet?

Take life and friends away;
But let me find them all again
In that eternal day.
